GALLAUDET TO HOLD 111TH COMMENCEMENT

Approximately 145 undergraduate and 60 graduate students are expected to receive their degrees at Gallaudet's 111th commencement on May 19, at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception. The ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a.m.

As in past years, many students will receive their degrees from their congressmen. Ambassadors or embassy representatives have been invited to award diplomas to foreign students.

This year's graduation will be particularly memorable and interesting as Dr. Margaret Mead will deliver the commencement address. World renown anthropologist, lecturer and author, Dr. Mead will speak on "Multi-Modal Transcultural Communication."

Dr. Mead is concerned about communication barriers and breakdowns confronting us today. In her address, she will discuss the potential success of using a sign language for international communications where Esperanto has failed.

Following Dr. Mead's speech and the conferring of degrees, honorary degrees will be awarded to Dr. McCay Vernon and Mr. David Hays. All degrees will be signed by President Ford, Patron of Gallaudet College.

ROLE OF RESEARCH TO BE EXPLORED

The first in a series of three conferences on the status and future of research at Gallaudet will be held on June 20 and 21. This symposium will address itself to "The Cultural and Social Orientation of the Deaf."

Open to the entire College community, the conference will include panel discussions, presentation of model research papers, policy statements by administration representatives and workshops.

For additional information, please contact Clarence Williams.

AROUND AND ABOUT

--From May 15 through June 9, the Library will be open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Library will be closed on Saturday and Sunday.

--Apes, Men and Language, the fascinating story about the chimpanzee Washoe, who learned sign language, is now on sale at the Bookstore at $8.95 per copy.

--Members of the Wheaton and White Oaks Chapters of the Inner Wheel (the woman's auxiliary of Rotary International) visited the campus on Tuesday. Following a luncheon and a special treat of songs from "Oliver" performed by MSSD students, the group spent part of the afternoon at Kendall School.

--The Alumni Committee met last week at Gallaudet. Chaired by John Spellman '51, the committee is charged with the responsibility of soliciting and cultivating the support and involvement of the general alumni body in on-going and future activities of the College.

--Ten schools for the deaf will be sending teams to participate

MSSD TO GRADUATE TWENTY-FIVE

The Model Secondary School for the Deaf will hold its fifth commencement program on Friday, May 16, in the Auditorium. Twenty-five students will receive their degrees.

Robert F. Panara, a professor of English and drama at the National Technical Institute for the Deaf in Rochester, New York, will be commencement speaker. The first deaf member of the NTID faculty, Mr. Panara is considered an expert on the literary and cultural contributions of the deaf.

The Honorable Caspar W. Weinberger, Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is expected to attend.

AMONG OURSELVES

--Congratulations to Ronald Sutcliffe who was awarded a Masters degree by the University of Maryland on May 11.

--Gallaudet's Community Education Center under the direction of Jim Cox will be sponsoring two workshops in Flint, Michigan, on May 19. One workshop will focus on an orientation to community education and the second will be designed to specifically build skills in community education. Representatives from approximately 30 different states will be in attendance.

--Many of you read and enjoyed the "Discovery" article in the most recent issue of GALLAUDET TODAY and have asked who were the participating students. Our campus adventure and thrill seekers were: Peggy Braun, Sherry Bravin, Rob Cundy, Leroy DesHotel, Cecelia Garcia, Norma Jean Halischak, Ron Hall, Kathy Heberg, James Humphrey, Joe McLaughlin, Linda McLaughlin, Linda Meier, Paul Munch, Therese Pohl, Pat Richey, Heidi Zimmer and Gretchen Buehler.
